SAN SALVADOR WIPE OUT BY FIERY BLAST

CAPITAL OF SALVADOR SAID TO HAVE BEEN DESTROYED
LAST NIGHT.

CITY HAD 50,000 INHABITANTS

Details Meagre—Nearby Towns Said
To Have Also Been Destroyed
By Volcano.

(Associated Press)

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua—San Salvador, the capital of the republic of Salvador, with population of more than 50,000 people, has been destroyed, according to a dispatch from San Miguel, Salvador.

There are no details, but the cause of the catastrophe was undoubtedly an earthquake or volcanic eruption.

An operator who reached the edge of the deserted zone said everything within a radius of 30 miles from San Salvador was destroyed, including several other towns.

Another report says people are sitting in the streets.

A report from American Minister Long, San Salvador, at 6 last night while the volcano was erupting, said part of the city had been destroyed by fire, but that the fire was under control. Great damage had been done up to that time, the dispatch said.

Paul Byers Writes of Experience in U.S. Navy Training Camp in East

Paul Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Byers of this city, who has enlisted in the United States navy, writes the following interesting letter to his people in Dixon, telling of his life so far in training and containing information for Dixon boys who may be considering joining the navy:

Norfolk, Va., June 5, 1917.

Dear "Dad,"

I arrived at Norfolk Saturday night at 11 o'clock. We had a sleep after we left Cincinnati. I enjoyed the trip to the coast very much. At 12 o'clock we had to line up and sign papers. At 2 in the morning the officer walked us to our sleeping quarters for the night. Some quarters. He said "Boys, find a place." All I could find was a bundle of empty sacks for a pillow and the floor was made of cement. I then thought of my bed at home.

We were called at 6 in the morning and at 7 had mess. I was so hungry I

SHERIFF PHILIPS AFTER THE SLACKERS

LOCAL AUTHORITIES GETTING A LINE ON THOSE WHO RE-FUSED TO REGISTER

Sheriff R. R. Phillips is on the alert for the young men who refused to register Tuesday. Word has reached his office that at least a half dozen men refused to register. It is reported that two reside in the city and several are working at the cement plant. The sheriff is investigating, and if he can find the boys who refused to register he will demand an explanation.

"I have received no instructions as yet," the sheriff said this morning, "but when I do I shall get busy. I shall do my duty in this matter. I realize some might have failed to register because of ignorance of the law, but from them I shall expect a satisfactory explanation."

Sheriff Phillips does not care to do anything rash relative to this matter but he feels that the law must be lived up to.

CROWDS ATTEND THE MOOSE BAND SHOWS

THREATENING WEATHER FAILS TO KEEP DIXON PEOPLE FROM CARNIVAL.

Threatening weather failed to keep amusement lovers from the Ed. A. Evans Greater shows last night. The largest attendance of the week was reported and all the attractions showed a perceptible increase in business. This was especially noticeable in the dog and pony show, each performance being to capacity. This attraction is the best ever seen with a traveling organization of this kind and deserves good patronage. Monkeys, dogs and ponies are seen in a diversified program of merit. Josephine, the big educated gorilla, is featured, and her part of the entertainment alone is well worth the price of admission. The Monkey Speedway has leaped into popular favor and is pleasing all visitors.

All the attractions are clean and meritorious and only good weather is needed to make the engagement of the Evans shows successful. The Moose band members have worked hard to make the week a gala one, but as usual the weather has been against them.

Three days remain and should the weather man condescend to bestow a little seasonable weather on the shows, a record-breaking attendance is anticipated.

Nick's Big Athletic Show at the carnival grounds in Dementtown is one of the hits of the week. Frankie Connolly, Charlie Kain, Cy Young, boxers, and Jack Herrick, boxer and wrestler, are meeting all comers regardless of weight.

Tonight Herrick will meet Dan Wolfe of this city and he agrees to throw Wolfe twice in thirty minutes or forfeit $50. The Dixon boy stayed with Herrick for 15 minutes on last Tuesday night without a throw.

TUETONS RUSH FRESH MEN TO STEM TORRENT

BRITISH GUNS AND MINES BYAST
GERMAN LINES—MAKE GREAT GAINS.

GERMAN POSITIONS THREATENED

Thousands of German Prisoners Are Pouring In By Thousands—British Front Quiet Last Night

(Associated Press)

Vast numbers of German soldiers are being rushed to the British front in northern France in an effort to stem the British torrent threatening to sweep the Teutons from the great industrial section of France.

Guns Sweep Plains.

From captured heights dominating the Lille plains the British are sending the message of death across the low plains, five miles in breadth, separating them from the industrial capital of northern France.

The Earth Opened Up.

Describing the tremendous explosion of mines preceding the British advance messines in battle, one correspondent writes, "the earth opened up and the German line disappeared."

Prisoners Pour In.

Six thousand prisoners have already reached the British collection stations and more keep coming in columns. Scores of German guns were destroyed by the British bombardment.

Last night was quiet on the British front.

Russians To Advance?

News from Russia indicates that the great Slavic country may soon make her military power felt on the eastern front. According to semi-official Italian announcement the Italians are now confronted by two-thirds of the entire Austrian army, as the result of concentration of formidable forces from the Russian front.

The Spanish cabinet is scheduled to meet today and it is reported that Premier Prieto may resign his post.

Following a protest against the submarine campaign, the Haitian charge at Berlin is said to have been given his passports.

London, June 8.—The official report of the war office at night says that Wytschaete, as well as Messines, was captured in the new British drive in Belgium. With the two big towns a half dozen villages also fell into the hands of the British. The number of prisoners taken is given out as 5,000. The Germans were taken by surprise. The Twenty-third Bavarian regiment just being relieved at the time the British attacked. Aerial observers say the enemy is massing his reserves in the vicinity of Warneton and upon the Ypres-Comines road. The enemy is bombarding the center of Messines ridge but the fire is not heavy.

London, June 8.—The British have opened an attack on a nine-mile front between Messines and Wytschaete and have taken all their first objectives.

The British attack is believed to be the largest since the Canadians carried Vimy Ridge. The attack was preceded by a fortnight's intense bombardment, which was more than usually necessary, as the German positions on this part of the line were known to be very strong. The object of the attack doubtless is to obliterate the salient which projects into the British line north of the River Lys, and at the same time to relieve the pressure on Ypres, which has been under bombardment since the Germans failed in their attempt to break through in 1915.

The official statement says that the British progress is being continued and that a number of prisoners have been taken.

Another aerial raid on Belgium is reported by the admiralty. Naval airplanes dropped bombs on the airfield at Nieuwunster, near the coast between Zeebrugge and Ostend. All the machines returned.

German Line Blown Up.

British Headquarters in France June 8.—The British rush early in the day on the Messines-Wytschaete ridge of the Belgian front took them well over the ridge, where they are now intrenching.

WE ARE AT WAR—AT WAR

Your lives have been peaceful, sheltered, disturbed by only trivial things since babyhood. You have never experienced the awful shattering devastations, the black horrors, the stunning blows to all you have builded, the blasting of hopes, all the gigantic, overwhelming disasters which WAR has always brought from the very dawn of history.

To you WAR is only a word of three letters which may mean something unpleasant to very remote people, but not to you.

Be warned! Awake! Arise! The flames are lit! The Horror is loose! And you must stand at the gate and summon all your strength to keep the Wolves away.

You think we are safe from invasion—that no foe can come thundering over our borders with awful engines of destruction which could turn your homes into smoldering ruins in an hour. You think no hostile aircraft can float noiselessly above you while you sleep, dropping bombs that would shatter your houses to matchwood and crumbled stone and your bodies to quivering fragments of bloody meat.

Is there an anti-aircraft gun here to drive them away? No! Or a mighty searchlight to spy them out among the midnight clouds? No!

Do you want this protection? Then help pay for it. Awake! Arise! We are at WAR!

Who knows what a month may bring forth? Who foresaw the kaleidoscopic changes in Europe? The Russian revolution?

What new nations may be brought into this world conflict? And how near our borders may the danger be? The world is aflame—and we are at WAR and still unprepared.

Awake! Arise! The call has come! Your banks, your business men, your city—builders, men of careful thought and wide information, have been given the ALARM to pass on to you.

Our hearts are stout, our courage proved, our minds are clear, our cause is just. It is in our deadly, wicked indifference, our false security, our blindness and our SLEEP that danger lies. Awake! Arise!

Famine goes hand in hand with war. We must have no famine here, nor need we.

Black disaster to business as well as lives, families impoverished, homes lost, lives drained away by want, those we must not have, nor need we.

But we must work—you must work—and we must work with intelligence, with united effort and with desperate earnestness.

We must arm! We must prepare! We must arm the nation with all the costly scientific new discoveries of warfare. We must feed millions now fighting for us in the field. We must provide the money—we must subscribe the Liberty Loan.

The call has come. Arise! You will be called to subscribe to the Liberty Loan. Answer with joy and pride and answer AT ONCE. And as you work give thanks that you are so called and are not called at midnight to step forth in a blinding blast of death from the skies, to see all those you love gasping for breath in quivering heaps—for an instant, before you, yourself are blown into a mangled shapeless thing.

The call has come! Awake! Take part—and put your BACK into it.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE LIBERTY LOAN AT ONCE!

WILL DISCUSS WAR ISSUES IN PALMYRA

EDWARDS AND BYERS TO AD-DRESS PATRIOTIC MEETING AT GAP GROVE.

A patriotic meeting of the people of Palmyra and the surrounding country has been called for Monday evening, June 11. The meeting will be at the town hall in Gap Grove, in Palmyra. Dixon's territory takes in the entire surrounding community and a special sub-committee, headed by Albert Borst of the Borden Condensed Milk Co., is perfecting plans to carry the campaign into the country districts. GOOD REPORT FOR BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

When the board of supervisors convenes on Monday County Clerk F. G. Dimick will submit his report for the half year, beginning Dec. 1, 1916, to June 1, 1917. This report is one of the best ever submitted from this office. It indicates that the office of the county clerk is not lagging in work, for, as we all know, it is one of the busiest in the county.

The report will show that the earnings from Dec. 1, 1916, to June 1, 1917, were $5,982.39.

The amount received was $5,999.79.

After all the expenses of the office are paid the amount to be turned over to Lee county will be $3,657.84. This is a splendid showing from one office.

PERSHING AND STAFF ARRIVE ON OTHER SIDE

AMERICAN DESTROYERS MEET
GEN. PERSHING AND STAFF
AS ESCORT.

HAVE AN UNEVENTFUL VOYAGE

British High Officials Meet American Army Heads and Escort Them To London.

(Associated Press)

Gen. Pershing and his staff of American army officers have arrived at a British port after an uneventful trip. They were escorted into port by American destroyers. The party was received by the general commanding the district, Rear Admiral Stileman, and the Lord Mayor of Liverpool. They were escorted to the dock by a military band and a guard of honor.

A British brigadier general immediately assumed the duties of aide to Gen. Pershing.

The time on the trip across the Atlantic was devoted to hard work and the study of French. There was great enthusiasm aboard Pershing's ship when the three American destroyers met them to act as escort.

"We are glad to be standard bearers of America in this great war for civilization," Gen. Pershing told the Associated Press upon arriving in England, "and we expect in a short time to be playing a big part on the western front," he added.

The party proceeded toward London.

A Serious Task.

In an interview in Paris, Col. Faby said "Gen. Pershing's task in France is a serious one. The United States will send a veritable army which will be swelled by French contingents destined to occupy an ever increasing front."

COVERT BOYER CASE ARGUED THIS A.M.

DER ADVISEMENT BY JUDGE
R. S. FARRAND.

After hearing the evidence and arguments Judge Farrand took the mat to under advisement.

HENRY BRISCOE MOVES STORE

Henry Briscoe has leased the store room in the Train building on the corner of First street and Peoria avenue, recently vacated by Miss Winters' millinery store. Mr. Briscoe will move his clothing and furnishings stock from his present location in the Opera House block to the new location at Peoria and First.

HAS EXCELLENT DRAWINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Boyer of this city are exhibiting a great deal of pride in the manual training work of their young son, Alonzo, Jr., a student of the North Dixon schools, which really shows exceptional merit. The youthful artisan has completed an oak, leather-padded stool, which he has presented to his sire, and which is of a very high grade of workmanship, bespeaking praise not only for his own ability, but also for his tutors. Among the lad's mechanical drawings is the plan for a home, its architectural features being worthy of adoption for a modern dwelling. In fact, so perfect are the specifications that a blueprint will be on exhibition at the state fair in Springfield. The grade of the young student in this department was ninety-nine plus, a showing of which both parents and student may be justly proud.

SITUATION IN RUSSIA IS GROWING HOPEFUL

Radicals' Power Wanes as Kerensky's Grip Tightens.

Washington, June 8.—A general improvement of conditions in Russia from the viewpoint of the United States and allied governments is reported in official dispatches to the state department.

Two important developments, relieving the grave aspect of last week's situation in Petrograd have come to the knowledge of the government here. They are:

First—The Russian army is in better condition than unofficial dispatches have indicated. Discipline, which was completely shattered by the events of the revolution, is being restored. War Minister Kerensky is again gaining the upper hand.

Second—The provisional government is gaining its second wind and is acquiring a stronger grasp on the country. Outside of Petrograd and Moscow the radical soldiers and workmen's committee has no hold on the country.

DENIES CHINA PLOT STORY

Lansing Says That United States Did Not Back Uprising in China.

Washington, June 8.—Secretary Lansing most emphatically denied reports that the United States was supporting the revolutionary movement in China and had even furnished funds for it.

"My attention has been called," said Mr. Lansing, "to certain charges in far eastern papers that this country was supporting the revolutionary movement in China and had even furnished large sums of money for its aid. This is absolutely false. The United States has taken no action toward the revolution of any sort. America's great and constant interest in China, as with all friendly nations, is the prevalence of good order and domestic tranquility."

MILLION MAY DIE, SAYS TAFT

Declares America Must Realize It Is Engaged in Terrible War.

Ames, Ia., June 8.—That the United States is engaged in a struggle with Germany that may last for years was the warning sounded here by former President William H. Taft to the 1917 graduating class of Iowa state college.

"Germany is not exhausted," Mr. Taft said. "She can only be conquered by heroic struggle. To do this we must give our happy go lucky spirit. We may have to give a million lives in return for the 200 already lost, but it will be worth it if we rid the world of the Prussian military domination that has become unbearable."

LAURIER REJECTS COALITION

Compulsory Service Proposal Potential With Difficulties, He Thinks.

Ottawa, June 8.—Correspondence made public shows that Sir Wilfrid Laurier definitely has refused to join Premier Borden in the work of joining a coalition government to enact a measure for compulsory military service.

Sir Wilfrid expressed regret that he had not been asked to form the coalition before the compulsory service was announced, as he feared difficulties if conscription was determined upon by the present parliament.

WAR DODGERS IN JAIL CONTINUE TO MENACE

Sheriff At Rockford, Ill., Asks for Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 8. Sheriff Ginders of Rockford telegraphed Governor Lowden asking permission to use state troops on federal duty near Rockford to prevent trouble in event of disturbances over the arrest of I. W. W. agitators, more than 100 of whom are in jail for refusing to register Tuesday.

Chicago, June 8.—District Attorney Cline reported that the situation at Rockford was well in hand. He said 140 Socialists, I. W. W., and conscription dodgers were under arrest in Winnebago county, of which Rockford is the county seat. All of the prisoners are held in jails in Rockford, Belvidere and Freeport.

Rockford, Ill., June 8.—There was no recurrence of the disorder which Wednesday night kept the jail in a turmoil and showered corridor floors with broken window panes. Lack of cell room to confine the men who entered the jail caused the transfer of groups of the men to other jails.

Pew of the men would talk, but one young fellow said:

"We just don't want to register. Some of us are Industrial Workers of the World, some Socialists and some church members."

SOLONS TO WALK TO CHICAGO

Murphy and Ryan in Bet as to Which Can First Reach City.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 8. Representative Timothy D. Murphy from "back of the yards" bet Representative Frank Ryan of the Second Chicago district $100 that he can beat him walking to Chicago. "Tim" is more than six feet tall and weighs about 190.

The terms of the walking match are that they start on the hike immediately after adjournment of the legislature no matter what the hour or what the weather conditions may be.

MINERS TAKE $100,000 LOAN

Illinois Union Will Remit Dues of All Members in War Service.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 8. The United Mine Workers of Illinois in executive conference decided to purchase $100,000 worth of liberty bonds.

At the same time President Frank Farrington announced that all miners who engage in military service will retain their union rights, but will be relieved of the payment of dues during their service.

HUGE WAR BUDGET IS HALTED IN CONGRESS

Kelly of Michigan Scents Graft in Jamestown Item.

Washington, June 8.—Charges of graft sent the enormous urgent deficiency bill back to conference. The measure, with its huge total of $3,281,294,000, is thus delayed once more. Not only are additional appropriations for the army and navy hung up, but the action defers handing to President Wilson the immediate emergency shipping fund of $405,000,000.

Kelly, of Michigan, a member of the committee on naval affairs, threw the bombshell into the house. By a vote of 184 to 114, the body refused to confirm the conference report.

The accusation of trying to cheat the government comes up in connection with the site of the former Jamestown exposition, near Norfolk, Va. The navy department wishes to acquire the site for a naval base and training station. Kelley charges the present owners purchased the site and buildings thereon for $250,000, yet they now wish to charge the government $600,000 for the buildings alone.

Hicks-Long Wedding
Tri-County Press: Among the early June weddings to take place was that of Miss Addie Viola Hicks of this city to Leslie Roscoe Long of Haldane, which was solemnized Monday evening, June 4, at eight o'clock, at the Lutheran parsonage. Rev. F. M. Keller officiating. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride and groom were unattended, the only guests present being the parents of the contracting parties, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Long, and Misses Edna and Marie Long, sisters of the groom.

The bride was beautifully gowned in sky blue crepe de chine with which she wore a corsage bouquet of white carnations. Her going away suit was blue poplin.

The bride, who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Hicks, is one of Polo's most accomplished daughters. She has spent her entire life in the vicinity, and she numbers her friends by her acquaintances. She graduated from the Polo High School with the class of 1912 and later accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Tri-County Press office, where she did very efficient work for several years.

Since last October, she has acted as stenographer in the insurance offices of M. E. Schryver. Mrs. Long is also an accomplished musician. She has been a member of the Lutheran choir for several years and has delighted many recital audiences with her selections on piano and organ.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Long of Haldane and is one of the progressive young farmers of that locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Long left Tuesday morning on a wedding trip, which will include Milwaukee and Chicago. Upon their return, they will reside at Haldane with the groom's parents.

While Mrs. Long's presence will be missed by her hosts of friends in this city, their kind thoughts will follow her to her new home with the wish that the new vacation which she has chosen, will bring to her years of unending prosperity and happiness.

The wedding was quietly solemnized with a few friends, including Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dickey of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lehman of Franklin Grove, to witness the ceremony. Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. Fox were friends of Mrs. Shaw's when they all lived in Pennsylvania. The bridal gown was a charming gray Georgette crepe creation and her traveling gown is of gray serge. Her flowers were cream roses arranged in a corsage bouquet.

The home was prettily decorated in bridal wreath and ferns, which formed a bank before which the bridal couple stood as the service was read. A luncheon of three courses was served after the ceremony, the table being attractively decorated with bridal wreath and bride's roses.

GIVING AID TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Since the war began and it became evident that one of our chief duties would be to guarantee a food supply for the world Uncle Sam has been paying more attention to the housewife than in former times.

Each week the department of agriculture gets out a weekly news letter and for the last month or so the editor has been using his last page to advise against waste and to tell how leftovers can be used. He gives some good stuff, and it is aptly spoken regardless of the international scarcity in foodstuffs. Just because there is abundance here is no reason why we should waste everything we use.

Every bit of uneaten cereal, according to Uncle Sam's chief agricultur-ist, can be used to thicken soups, stews or gravies. Stale bread is the basis of many attractive meat dishes, hot breads and deserts. Every ounce of skimmed milk contains valuable nourishment, and sour milk can be utilized in very many ways.

Every piece of meat and fish can be combined with cereals to make meat cakes, meat or fish pies and to add flavor and food value to other dishes.
Every spoonful of left-over gravy can be used in soups and sauces or as flavoring for meat pies, croquettes and vegetables. Every bit of clean fat and every spoonful of drippings is valuable in cooking. Uncle Sam's chief advises you to save all water in which meat is boiled in order to use it in soup, stews and gravies.

To be efficient in the home you must know your job and be on it. Make it your business to know what foods and how much food your family needs to be in fighting trim. Learn to make the most of the foods you buy. Write to the department of Agriculture at Washington or your state agricultural college for bulletins telling you about the nature and uses of foods and how to feed your family economically or getting the greatest nourishment out of every pound of food that comes into your home.

SOBER THOUGHT ON THE WAR

The excitement of our entry into war for liberty in order that the world might be safe from democracy has passed away. The exaggerated patriotism of the man who yammered for war has surrendered to the officer giving commands to those who have come out for service.

The people at home owe the soldiers at the front one thing above all else, that they shall guard their passions, smother their emotions and be on their guard lest the intensity of their feelings obscure the cause of their nation's struggle. The people at home should not endanger the lives of American soldiers in order to appease a longing cry for vengeance. They should remember that they are at home, and that the lists were open for them to take up the fight, but that they stayed at home and remained silent, when the call for men went around.

We have some in training now, we have others dear to us who will see service, should the war last, and we sorrow at their loss, even if it be but for a day of their lives. To turn a man from the peaceful pursuits of life is a fearful thing and to train a nation to kill is a thing that should not be prolonged. We regret that war has come to our country and we insist that it must not be needlessly extended in order to enforce striking victory by either side. This is in line with President Wilson's idea of peace without victory —In no other way can permanent peace be found. The world will be made safe for democracy, not through compulsion, but through adjustment, compromise and conciliation.

RUNNING A NEWSPAPER IN CHINA.

"Editors of American publications do not find it a difficult task to refuse manuscripts which fail to prove available for their use. They frankly, and in most instances without giving any reasons, simply send back such copies as they do not want. But not so in China. The return of a manuscript by an editor there imperils his life and he knows it. The Onward reports that only by the invariable use of the most gracious language can a Chinese editor expect to avert the terrible wrath of the contributor whose manuscript is declined, and save his own editorial head from swift decapitation.

"The following letter is an example of the Celestial editor's form which generally accompanies the return of a manuscript, says the Onward:

"Most honored brother of the Sun and Moon: Your slave is prostrate at thy feet. I kiss the ground before you and implore you to authorize me to speak and live. Your manuscript has permitted itself to be looked upon by us, and we have read it with enchantment. I swear on the tomb of my ancestors that I have never read anything more exalted. It is with fear and terror that I send it back.

"If I allowed myself to print this treasure, the president would immediately order me to use it forever as an example, and forbid me to dare print anything inferior. My literary experience enables me to declare that such literary pearls are only created once in 10,000 years, and that is why I take the liberty of returning it to you."

PAUL BIRS WRITES OF EXPERIENCE

nor can we buy anything. No smoking nor chewing. They sell Campbell cigarets for 25 cents, 50 cents a package. One fellow paid a dollar for a package.

Norfolk is one of the largest training stations on the Atlantic coast.
There are several islands in the bay.
One in particular I am interested in and thoroughly acquainted with, the location of the naval training station where all recruits are trained for the naval service. There are about 1200 men here now training for different branches. The boys who joined at sailors receive about eight hours drilling each day. Those who enlisted as firemen, machinists and shipbuilders are doing odd jobs about the station, driving wagons, hoeing weeds and sweeping the floors of the buildings. At present five machinists, including myself, are laying a brick sidewalk. This is very interesting, with the sun beating down at 95 degrees.

All men are requested to retire at 9 o'clock and arise at 5. Mess is called at 6, 11 and 5 o'clock each day. No one is allowed to buy or sell smoking tobacco of any description. Nor can we leave the grounds. This holds good until 21 days of training. When you have finished that time you are transferred to another island for a period of three months. The ruling there is changed slightly, giving each man three evenings a week which he can use as he wishes. After you have completed three and a half months of training you are in condition to be placed on one of our large gunboats and may have an opportunity to see France and Germany — that is to come later.

Summing it all up, this is a great experience for a man. It gives him a physical training he could not hope to receive as a civilian. I hope that before the war closes more Dixon fellows will choose the navy, because it is the best division of the U. S. military machinery. It gives health and traveling experience you could not get in the army branch of the service.

Now as to the war situation. The people of the east consider it more seriously because they are in position to see and hear all about war activities. Every railroad bridge, tunnel and public building is guarded by members of the national guard of various states.

Everything here is closely guarded.
The motto here is "Safety first at all times and all places."

Your son,
PAUL W. BYERS,
U. S. N.

Men Like a Wide Range of Styles and Fabrics to Select From

A man may have a definite idea as to what he wants to wear, but he also likes to see something different when he goes to buy his clothes. For most men are not averse to changing their minds if they see something they like better.

That's why men like to trade at this store.
For here they find garments in every size and in many styles—suits and coats that for accuracy of cut and refinement of fabric, leave nothing to be desired in satisfying the careful dresser.

GERMAN LINE IN BELGIUM ROCKED

The British in their attack used probably 20 per cent more guns, especially those of heavy caliber, than they employed in the battle of Arras.

More than 1,000,000 pounds of high explosives was blown up under the German forward positions. This, the most gigantic mining operation in the history of the war, spread panic among the Germans.

Tanks were in the thick of the fighting.

More than 1,000 Germans were taken prisoners early in the engagement.

The fighting continues under a mid-summer sun. The Germans have not yet rallied for the expected counter attack.

Messines Taken Early.

The village of Messines was reported to have been taken early in the fighting. It was also reported that Lenter and Zareeba had fallen and that Wytshaete had been surrounded by the British storming troops.

The British also captured important trench positions all the way from Observation ridge, southeast of Ypres, to Ploegsteert wood, north of Arras.

Big Battle on, Says Berlin.

Berlin, June 8.—The German official war statement says, the battle in Flanders fully flared up after the most extensive explosions, and the most violent drum fire.

German troops Wednesday captured French positions for an extend of nearly one and one-quarter miles along the Chemin-des-Dames front, south of Pargny, Filain, in the Aisne region, the statement says.

ARMS VOTED HOME GUARDS

Senate Passes Bill Providing for Rifles and Other Equipment.

Washington, June 8.—The house passed the senate bill to authorize issue of rifles and other equipment for organization of home guards. The bill has the approval of the war department.

It gives the war department discretionary authority to equip "home guards having the character of state police or constabulary, and such other home guards as may be organized under the discretion of governors."

DO RIGHT AN DDON'T WRITE

A certain Dixon young man arrived home after graduating from one of the large universities. Before leaving home to go forth into the world to make a place for himself his father called him aside to give him some advice. He said: "Young man, the advice I am giving you is the voice of experience speaking through my father. When you deal with men be honest and do right, and when you deal with women be honest but don't write."

The young man saw the point and promised to follow the advice of his parent.

SYNOPSIS

Talbot Ward's challenge to Frank Munroe to a personal encounter to determine whether Munroe is fit to make a trip to California in search of gold is accepted. Munroe gets a hammerlock on Ward and wins the bout.

They choose the Panama route. Ward, it develops, is an old campaigner. On board ship they meet Johnny Fairfax and Yank Rogers. The four become partners.

CHAPTER VI.
Off For the North.

W E accompanied Talbot in some bewilderment, for there was no ship in sight nor in prospect, and we could not understand any reason for this haste. Talbot led the way directly to the steamship office.

"I want to see Brown," he asserted, naming the chief agent for the company.

The clerk hesitated. Brown was an important man and not to be disturbed for trivial matters. But Talbot's eye could be very assured.

"What is your business with Mr. Brown?" asked the clerk.

"It is with Mr. Brown," said Talbot firmly, "and I may add that it is to Mr. Brown's own interest to see me. Tell him just that and that Mr. Talbot Ward of New York city desires an immediate interview."

The clerk was gone for some moments, to the manifest annoyance of a dozen miners who wanted his attention. When he returned he motioned us to a screened off private office in the rear.

"Mr. Brown will see you," said he.

We found Brown to be a florid, solidly built man of fifty, with a keen eye and a brown beard. He nodded to us briefly and looked expectant.

"We three men," said Talbot directly, "hold three tickets on your line. We were not fortunate enough to get passage on the next steamer, and our business will not permit us to wait until the one after. We want our money back."

Brown's face darkened.

"That is a matter for my clerks, not for me," he said curtly. "I was told your business was to my advantage. I have nothing to do with tickets."

"One minute," said Talbot. "There are between two and three hundred men in this town each of whom bought a ticket from your company in New York in the expectation, if not the understanding, that they were to get through passage immediately."

"No such thing was expected or guaranteed," interposed Brown abruptly.

"Not guaranteed nor expected by you—by us, yes."

"I cannot argue that matter. I have no further time for you. Good day." And Brown once more reached his hand toward his bell.

"Suppose," said Talbot softly, leaning forward, "I should put it into the hands of those 300 men that they ought to get their passage money back?"

Brown's hand stopped in mid-air. "They are large, violent, armed men, and they are far from pure home influences," went on Talbot mockingly. "Here's a sample of them," said he, indicating my huge frame. "And there are a thousand or so more not directly interested, but dying for excitement."

"Are you trying to intimidate me, sir?" demanded Brown.

"I am just stating conditions."

"Ah, that is different," said Talbot Ward.

Brown sat lost in thought for some moments. Then he reached forward and at last struck the bell.

"Let me have your tickets," he commanded us shortly.

He indorsed them and handed them to the clerk, together with a written order. We all sat in absolute silence for perhaps five minutes. Then the clerk returned with a handful of gold.

This Brown counted over and shoved across to Talbot. The latter also counted it and thrust it in his pocket.

"Now," said Brown, with something approaching gentleness, "I am counting on your honor to say nothing of this outside. I am gambling on your evident class in life at home."

"You have our promise, and it will be kept," said Talbot.

At our place we found that Yank had not returned. At first we thought nothing of this, but about dusk we found that all his belongings had disappeared.

We could not understand this sudden departure, except on the possible ground that Yank, realizing that now the party must split forces, had decided to seek new companions among those lucky enough to sail on the first steamer.

"Even then he needn't have been in such a hurry," complained Johnny a trifle bitterly. "And he needn't have thought we'd be in his way."

"Has he paid his share of the lodgings?" it occurred to me to ask.

We felt quite bitter against Yank, and we carefully avoided his usual haunts, for we did not want to meet him. Then we began to think it strange we had not run across him somewhere on the streets. Then we began to look for him. We found that Yank had disappeared!

At that, a little alarmed, we set ourselves to a serious search and inquiry. A few remembered to have seen him, but were vague as to when and where. The authorities moved sluggishly, and with little enthusiasm. Men were dying every day and disappearing underground, leaving no trace of themselves behind. One more or less seemed unimportant.

In the meanwhile we spent much of our time by the shore, together with a comfortable majority of our fellow argonauts, awaiting the sighting of a vessel. We had engaged and paid daily a boatman to be in readiness to take us off, and we settled our lodgings account a week ahead.

"There's going to be a scramble for that blessed ship," said Talbot, "and we'll just be prepared."

To that end we also kept our effects packed and ready for instant removal.

The expected ship came, of course, on one of these dull gray days, and those who had thought themselves unlucky in being crowded out of the huts were the first to sight her. They sneaked down very quietly and tried to launch two of the boats. Of course the native boatmen were all inside; trust them! As a high surf was running, and as none of the men were in any sense good boatmen, they promptly broadened to and filled. The noise brought us to the door.

Then there was a fine row. One of the two boats commandeered by the early birds happened to be ours. All our forethought seemed to have been in vain. The bedraggled and crestfallen men were just wading ashore when we descended upon them. Talbot was like a raving lunatic.

"You hounds!" he roared. "Don't you dare try to sneak off! You catch hold here and help empty these boats! You would, would you?" He caught one escaping worthy by the collar and jerked him so rapidly backward that his heels fairly cracked together. Johnny flew to the combat with a chuckle of joy. I contented myself by knocking two of them together until they promised to be good. The four we had colored were very meek. We all waded into the wash where the boat lay sluggishly rolling. It is no easy matter to empty a boat in that condition. Water weighs a great deal; is fearfully inert, or at least feels so, and has a bad habit of promptly slopping in again. We tugged and heaved and rolled and hauled until our joints cracked, but at last we got her free.

In the meantime forty other boats had been launched and were dying over the waves halfway between the shore and the ship.

Talbot was swearing steadily and with accuracy. Johnny was working like a crazy man. I was leaving away at the stern and keeping an eye on our involuntary helpers. The boatman, beside himself with frantic excitement, jabbered and ran about and screamed directions that no one understood. About all we were accomplishing now was the keeping of that boat's head straight against the heavy wash.

It seemed as though we tugged thus at cross purposes for an hour. In reality it was probably not over two or three minutes. Then Talbot regained sufficient control to listen to the boatman. At once he calmed down.

"Here, boys," said he, "ease her backward. You, Johnny, stand by at the bow and hold her head on. Frank and I will give her a shove at the stern. When the time comes I'll yell, and you pile right in, Johnny. Vamos, Manuel!"

We took our places, the boatman at the oars, his eyes over his shoulder watching keenly the in racing seas.

The four dripping culprits looked at each other uncertainly, and one of them started to climb in the boat.

"Well, for God's sake!" screamed Talbot and made a headlong dash for the man.

The latter tumbled right out of the boat on his back in the shallow water. His three companions fled ineffectually up the beach, where he followed them as soon as he could scramble to his feet.

Manuel said something sharply, without looking around.

"Shove!" screamed Talbot. "Pile in, Johnny!"

We bent our backs. The boat resisted, yielded, gathered headway. It seemed to be slipping away from me down a steep hill.

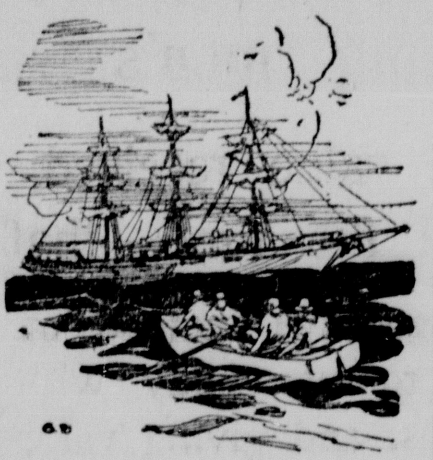

"Jump in!" yelled Talbot.

I gave a mighty heave and fell over the stern into the bottom of the boat. Waters seemed to be crashing by, but by the time I had gathered myself together and risen to my knees we were outside the line of breakers and dancing like a gull over the smooth broad surges.

Ships could anchor no nearer than about a mile and a half offshore. By the time we had reached the craft she was surrounded by little boats bobbing and rubbing against her sides. She proved to be one of that very tubby, bluff bowed type then so commonly in use as whalers and freighters. The decks swarmed black with an excited crowd.

We rowed slowly around her. We were wet and beginning to chill. No way seemed to offer by which we could reach her decks save by difficult clambering, for the gang ladder was surrounded ten deep by empty boats. A profound discouragement succeeded the excitement under which we had made our effort.

No Way Seemed to Offer by Which We Could Reach Her Decks.

"The deuce with her!" snarled Johnny. "There's no sense going aboard her. There's enough on deck now to fill her three times over. Let's get back where it's warm."

"If I run across any of those fellows in town I'll break their necks," said I.

"What makes me mad?" continued Johnny.

"Oh, for heaven's sake shut up," cried Talbot.

If he had been a little less cold and miserable we probably would have quarreled. As it was, we merely lumped over and motioned the astonished Manuel to return to the shore. Our boat's head turned, we dropped down under the bow of the ship. In order to avoid the sweep of the seas Manuel held us as closely as possible under the bowsprit. We heard a hail above us. Looking up we saw Yank bending over the rail.

We stared at him, our mouths open, so astonished that for a moment we did not even think to check the boat. Then we came back in a clumsy circle. Yank yelled at us, and we yelled back at him, but so great was the crash of waters and the whistling of wind that we could make out nothing.

Then Yank, motioning us to remain where we were, disappeared, to return after a short interval with a speaking trumpet.

"Have you got your baggage with you?" he roared.

We shook our heads and waved our arms.

"Go get it!" he ordered.

We screamed something back at him.

"Go get it!" he repeated and withdrew his head entirely.

We rowed back to town. It was no longer necessary to return to the exposed beach where we had waited to sight the ships. Johnny and I indulged in much excited speculation, but Talbot refused to show curiosity.

"He's there, and he's evidently engaged us passage, and he wants us aboard to claim it," said he, "and that's all we can know now, and that's enough for me."

Yank met us at the top of the gangway and assisted us in getting our baggage aboard. Johnny and I peppered him with questions, to which he vouchsafed no answer. When we had paid off the boatman he led the way down a hatch into a very dark hole near the bows. A dim lantern swayed to and fro. Through the murk we could make out a dozen bunks.

"They call this the fo'castle," said Yank placidly. "Crew sleeps here. This is our happy home. Everything else full up. We four," said he, with a little flash of triumph, "are just about the only galsots of the whole billing at Panama that gets passage. She's loaded to the muzzle with men that's come away around the Horn in her, and the only reason she stopped in here at all is to get a new thingum-a-jig of some sort that she had lost or busted or something."

"Well, I don't like my happy home while she wabbles so," said Johnny.

"I'm going to be seasick, as usual. But for heaven's sake, Yank, tell us where you came from and all about it. And make it brief, for I'm going to be seasick pretty soon."

He lay down in one of the bunks and closed his eyes.

"You'd much better come up on deck into the fresh air," said Talbot.

"Fire ahead, Yank, please!" begged Johnny.

"Well," said Yank, "when I drew that steamer ticket I struck me that somebody might want it a lot more than I did, especially as you fellows drew blanks. So I hunted up a man who was in a hurry and sold it to him for $500. Then I hired one of these sail rigged fishing boats and laid in grub for a week and went cruising out to sea five or six miles."

Johnny opened one eye.

"Why?" he demanded feebly.

"I was figuring on meeting any old ship that came along a little before the crowd got at her," said Yank.

"And judging by the gang's remarks that just left, I should think I'd figured just right."

"You bet you did," put in Talbot emphatically.

"It must have been mighty uncomfortable cruising out there in that little boat so long," said I. "I wonder the men would stick."

"I paid them and they had to," said Yank grimly.

OBITUARY

Avalina Lenora Clink was born June 16, 1851, Sublette, Lee County, Ill., on the old Clink homestead. She was married to Jacob Charles Rex July 2, 1870, at Sublette, Ill., and has resided in this locality since that time. As a result of the marriage seven children were born to them of whom two died in early childhood; namely, Mabel, living three years, and John, living nine months. Her husband, Jacob Charles Rex preceded the deceased to the better world by seven months and two days. Five children and families are left to mourn her departure. Sadie M. McNinch, Frank A. Rex of Sublette, Ill., Jennie M. Wildesmith of Plano, Ill., Lela A. Hall of Franklin Grove, Ill., Clara E. Messer of Ashton, Ill., also one sister Mrs. J. T. Kearns, of Omaha, Neb., and one brother, Joseph Clink, of Sublette, Ill. The grand children

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezeone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers. Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezeone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so softened that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

and many relatives and friends notified to call and pay the amount mourn the loss of this devoted Christian mother. She became afflicted with the Methodist church in which has been heretofore confirmed her girlhood. She has been an in- valid at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McNeish, who have kindly and lovingly cared for her during the illness of nearly two years. She passed away peacefully in the Hospital at Compton, Ill., May 29, 1917.

Mrs. Virgil and granddaughter Ruth Reid of Amboy visited at the Frank Gagstetter home last week. Miss Helen Gagstetter returned home with them and will spend the week with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Blowers moved to Chicago Monday morning. Miss Sadie Theiss visited at the home of her friend, Miss Aschenbrenner at Lee Center last week.

Mrs. J. Barton and children expect to leave this week for Lancaster, Ken., where they will visit home folks for a month or six weeks.

Mrs. Ella Crawford of Mendota spent last Friday and Saturday at the H. F. Bausan home.

Mr. C. A. Murray of Chicago was here last week to help Mr. Laue settle the insurance losses, which were caused by the storm a week ago last Saturday. He returned home on Friday and had a paralytic stroke and died on Monday.

Dr. Frank Gardner of Moline, Ill., was here on business Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Romana Lauer went to Springfield last Friday and returned home Tuesday evening.

The Clink club met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bettendorf last Wednesday afternoon.

The Y. P. A. members will hold their monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. Clark on Friday evening, June 8th.

Grandma Barton has been very poorly for the past few months and was taken to the home of her daughter at Sandwich, Ill., on last Friday.

On last Monday morning at about 5:30 a large balloon passed over Sublette. We understood it was Capt. P. J. McCullough of the Missouri branch of Aeronautical service and four lieutenants who left St. Louis on last Sunday for a trial trip to Chicago. Mr. Forest Blowers called to the men as they were passing over and they asked if they were going the right direction for Chicago. The balloon was traveling toward the northeast.

Communication services will be held at the Union Church on next Sunday evening, May 10th. Rev. Kickhoefer, presiding elder of Freeport will be present and conduct the service.

GET TO THE CAUSE

Dixon People Are Learning the Way

There is but little peace or comfort for the man or woman with a bad back. The distress begins in early morning—keeps up throughout the day. It's hard to get out of bed, it's torture to stoop or straighten. Plasters and liniments may relieve, but cannot cure if the cause is inside—the kidneys. When suffering so, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the tested and proven kidney remedy used in kidney troubles for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by thousands for just such cases. Proof of their effectiveness in the testimony of this Dixon resident.

Mrs. Leland Pontius, 609 S. Crawford St., says: "I fairly screamed with pains in my back across my kidneys, in fact, I was as helpless as a child for nearly a month. I couldn't turn in bed and would have cold sweats. I thought the awful misery in my back would kill me. My kidneys were in terribly bad shape. I doctored and took almost everything I heard of, besides using plasters and liniments, but nothing gave relief. Our family doctor said I ought to be operated on, as I had passed gravel stone. My husband objected to the operation and got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I could notice improvement right away and was finally able to get up and go about my housework. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the gravel in the form of a sort of sediment."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pontius had. Foster-McBurn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
